Everyone who Comes to Mr. Lobo's
Shocking Midnite Movie Spookshow
Will Die

(Well... eventually)

To celebrate the release of their latest book, Monster Movie Memories, themonsterclub.com is sponsoring a special live presentation hosted by syndicated TV horror host Mr. Lobo. Sacramento audiences will interact with floating skeletons, mad monsters and other classic movie-house gimmicks at the Crest Theatre on Saturday, May 15 - and if they're brave enough, they'll stay to endure William Castle's classic horror thriller House on Haunted Hill - on 16mm film!

SEE terrifying creatures steal girls from the audience! GASP in amazement as lucky audience members win a real dead body, an autographed copy of Monster Movie Memories or other swell prizes! Admission includes Blood-o-Vision glasses that will drench everything you see in crimson gore - or, for the lily-livered, Wuss-O-Vision glasses! BOGGLE as Registered Naughty Nurses stand ready with smelling salts, adult diapers and death certificates! QUIVER as Mr. Lobo uses his dark powers to hypnotize you into believing that this goofy 40-year-old movie is actually scary!

One night only! "Mr. Lobo and His Shocking Midnite Movie Spookshow" starts at 11:59 P.M., Saturday, May 15th, at The Crest Theater (1013 K Street, Sacramento). Admission is $10.00. Portions will be recorded by the crew of "Cinema Insomnia" for broadcast next season. Come out and support Sacramento's esoteric cinema scene!
