VETERAN BAY AREA "CREATURE FEATURES" HOSTS HELP CELEBRATE THE DEBUT OF "CINEMA INSOMNIA" ON KTEH OCTOBER 1

Noteworthy members from Wondercon's popular "Monsters of Shock" presentation will reconvene for another loving look at "A History of Horror Hosts" on Saturday, October 8 at San Jose's SiliCON convention. Bay Area TV horror hosts Bob Wilkins and John Stanley of "Creature Features", Mr. Lobo from the syndicated series "Cinema Insomnia" and Ken Patterson from KTEH 54 in San Jose will preside over clips from "Creature Features" and other ghoulish, foolish, sexy and spooky movie emcees from across the country. A fun and informative history of TV Horror hosts will also be reviewed, starting at 1 p.m.

The esteemed panel will also be joining in the celebration as "Cinema Insomnia," now seen on UATV affiliates in a dozen states, is carried by PBS affiliates KETH 54 and KCAH 25 in Watsonville beginning October 1. "These stations have definitely kept the fires burning by showing classic horror films and revving up the sci-fi community by playing a key part in conventions in the region," Mr. Lobo said.

If you are one of the millions of monster kids who grew up on hosted horror films on TV or are interested in what's currently happening in this fascinating genre, you won't want to miss this show! More information about SiliCON, taking place at San Jose's DoubleTree Hotel, can be found online at www.siliconventions.com.
